Association updates: Shawn said the NABH 2020 Annual Meeting is on track. If you haven't registered or reserved a room yet, please do so. Speakers lined up except for one.

Kirsten Beronio from CMS will join NABH as director of regulation and policy on Monday, Feb. 24. She succeeds Scott Dziengelski in this role.

For 2020, Shawn said NABH continue to focus on our Managed Care initiative. Some activities will include compiling a list of egregious activities and pushing actively for congressional oversight and hearings. Both the Senate Finance Committee and House Energy & Commerce Committee are open to congressional hearings.

NABH is pushing our agency outreach and coordination. We hope to have some key leaders from the agencies participating in our Quality, MAT, and Youth Services Committee meetings at the Annual Meeting in March.

The call adjourned at 3:11 p.m.
